Dear Hal,

Excuse the tardiness of my reply but things got hectic for awhile. All's calm now as we await word on our station and await & await and await.

Your suggestions on the file cabinets sound great. Go with the plan. I think we should include the transfer cases, too, as they match (we MOST color-coordinate you know!) & would be of great use. The prices you quote sound OK to me. I think it safest to ship them (when you get your new ones, of course) collect in case of (god forbid) damage. Otherwise, if anything happened, you'd have the hassle with the shippers & you have enough hassles for ten of me.

My only problem is with Art he wants one for himself & said he was your friend — I said but you didn't ask! I think he said then (greater love hath no man') & I told him I no longer believed in ERA. So, we'll settle it with 'His' + 'Hers' for the time being. Let me know right away when you need the advance payment.

Not to get serious and sentimental if it embarrasses you, but I will feel greatly honored to have the cabinets you began with + hope the material I put in them is just a quarter as worthwhile.

Give my best to Lil. Hope your weather is better than ours right now. Your hospitality was gracious + your company was all we wished. Best,

Jodi
